In the generation since the issuing of the U.S. Catholic Bishop's 1983 pastoral letter, The Challenge of Peace, a great deal has changed in the Church and the world with regards to war and peace. The spring 2003 social justice symposium at Washington Theological Union will explore these changes and provide a stimulating atmosphere to reflect upon future directions for the Church based upon this tradition. This will be an especially rich and timely conversation given the current situation in the world.
